DR. HAMMOND'S MEETINGS.

The Interest in Them Still Continues-His Talk Last Night. Owing to the inclement weather there was not the usual large attendance at Dr. Hammond's meeting last night, but there was no lack of interest in the meeting. The meeting opened with the usual service of song and the revivalist invited all who occupied seats in the rear of the church to step forward where they could hear and he heard.

"If I should call at one of your houses and stop in the wood shed," said the divine, "and you should invite me into the parlor I would certainly accept the invitation, and so I want you to accept my invitation and come forward." "Open My Eyes" was the first hymn given out. It was one of Dr. Hammond's own hymns and he thought that while singing one verse of it any sinner might be saved.

"Dear Saviour, now to Thee I fly From slavery and guilt; My hopes, my all, on Thee rely, Thy blood for me was spilt."

This verse, he said, reminded him of a man condemned to die and the governor appears at the last moment and pardons him. The man walks out and people are astonished. They ask, "Are you free?" and he replies, "Yes; I am a free man."
"Why, then," said Dr. Hammond, "should baye here to-ou not accept this pardon and leave here to-night free from sin?"

After the singing of the hymn Dr. Hammon spoke of prevailing prayer and found his text Isaiah 65, 24. Speaking of the cases of immediate answers to prayer, he said that if he had noted down each instance of that kind he would now be able to fill a book. Speaking of the meetings heid here fifteen years ago he said that a man came to the meeting in the Congregational Church, intending to break it up if possible, but during the evening prayer was answered and this man who had found the error of his way jumped to his feet and shouted "Glory to umped to his feet and shouted "Glory to and he afterward died still praising the Lord. Before that man was converted he was a wicked sinner, and on one occasion he kept his wife on the roof of the house in a storm. "That's the kind of people," he said, "that find their way to the Lord in these meetings." Then the revivalist dwelt upon the confes-on of sin, and said he did not believe there

His story was that Mr. Adams had nine pigs and Mr. Brown had a garden where the pigs used to go and root up the corn. One day Mr. Brown threw a stone and killed one of neighbor Adams' pigs. The best way to cover up the pig, he thought, was to bury it, which he did, and then Mr. Adams inquired about the ig. Neighbor Brown told him that he did not see

All hands got on their knees and after Bro. Brown had been called upon a num-ber of times to pray he said: "There's a pig in the way."

B. Hercs, the correspondent of the Bohemia paper of New York city, who went to Pocoontas, W. Va., to investigate the reported cruel treatment of Bohemians employed on the extension of the Norfolk and Western railroad, returned Tuesday, bringing with him three nen and a woman whom he rescued from one of the camps. Mr. Hercs says he reached the Logan county camp on the 10th of March. All armed with Winchesters, and revolvers and a oack of bloodhounds was kept chained close by. He was told there were no Bellemians, in the camp, but he had all the men marshale before him and picked out thirteen men, who, other three and the woman came on to New York with him.

The men say they were compelled to work like slaves under the lash, were watched night and day, chased by bloodhounds if they attempted to escape, had hardly sufficient clothing to cover their nakedness and had no shelter from the wintry blasts at night but that afforded by the loosely built log "shacks." Their beds consisted of leaves, with the frozen earth for a pillow.

An investigation into the charges of bribery so freely made within the past few days with regard to the United States senatorship has at last been commenced. The investigation is being conducted by a joint committee of the legislature. A score of witnesses were examined by the committee at its sitting Wednes-day night. Among those who testified was Mr. Estee, one of the aspirants for senatorial hon-ors. He denied all knowledge of money being used to influence members of the legislature in favor of any candidate. The committee de-cided not to reveal the contents of the package found in the library of the state capitol, said to have a bearing on the alleged corrupt use of money in the senatorial fight. It was believed, however, that the documents contained in this package would be read before the committee at today's sitting of the committee.

A Berlin correspondent states that the kaiser has ordered a searching investigation into the condition of the military stores. Alarmists go so far as to state that the situation in some respects is not different from that of France in the beginning of the last war, and that extensive frauds had been perpetrated upon the government. This, however, is not credited generally, and the war office has already begun an investigation that, it is believed, will expose whatever rottenness exists. Two officers of the ordinance department who have been gambling ordnance department who have been gambling heavily on small incomes are under suspicion PROSECUTION OF GERMAN SOCIALISTS.

German socialists are becoming uneasy over the increasing frequency of government prosecutions, indicating a return to the methods that prevailed before the repeal of the law against socialistic gatherings. The police everywhere are showing unusual activity and severity in dealing with agitators and the slightest sign of disrespect for royalty or its representatives is severely dealt with. VARIOUS FOREIGN NOTES. President Carnot spoke at Limoges on Tues-day. He alluded to the necessity of athletic exercises for healthy development and spoke hopefully of the condition and prospects of France. He had a most enthusiastic reception. Torrential rains have prevailed recently in the southeast of France. Large districts have been inundated. The Rhone is rising rapidly. Mr. Justice Monroe, in opening the Cork assizes, said that boycotting and moonlighting had ceased in the counties of Cork, Kerry, Tipperary, Limerick and Clare, and the crimes' act courts had practically ceased their sittings. Edmund Pooley, solicitor, is making good progress in collecting new evidence in the Maybrick case. Several new witnesses have volunteered their testimony since it was announced that an attempt would be made to reopen the case. exercises for healthy development and spoke

Delia Close was shot to death Monday night in Dallas, Tex., by George Martin, a stock dealer, with whom she sustained intimate relations.

A call has been sent out for the formation of a Farmers' Alliance at Haverhill, Mass.

Capt. John W: Carroll, one of the oldest and best known river men on the Ohio and lower Mississippi rivers, died Monday evening at Mulanphy, Mo., at the age of fifty-eight years.

Louis Le May, who was struck with apopleny in New Haven, Conn., while cursing the priest and the church, is said by superstitious French Catholics to have been stricken dumb for blasphemy.

ALLCOCK'S

PLASTERS. POROUS

If you suffer with lame back, especially in morning, Allcock's PLASTERS are a sure relief.

If you cannot sleep, try an Allcock Plaster, well up between shoulder blades--often relieves-sometimes cures. Try this before you resort to opiates.

If any of your muscles are lame-joints stiff-feel as if they wanted oiling-or if you suffer with any local pains or aches, these plasters will cure you.

If you use them once you will realize why so many plasters have been made in imitation of them. Like all good things they are copied as closely as the law allows. Don't be duped by taking an imitation when it is as easy to get the genuine.

If you always insist upon having Allcock's Porous Plasters and never accept a substitute, you will not be disappointed.
